

Council approves park plans, construction

By Lynne Locke

Upland City Council Monday night gave permission for youth sports groups to begin installation of softball and baseball diamonds at the Greenbelt Park west of Benson Avenue.

The council also approved development plans for the park which will include tennis courts, picnic areas, model airplane flying rings, and playground equipment as well as the diamonds.

Councilman Bill Bottin was defeated in an effort to have the plan declared open for future revision to include two holes for a golf course he has proposed for land east of the Greenbelt Park.

Bottin also criticized the Greenbelt Park development plan for not stipulating when stages of development — especially the diamonds — would be complete.

He noted a possible problem with completion of the diamonds since the city will be "depending on volunteers" for the work and warned the city might find itself in the position of having to complete the work at cost to the citizens.

Bottin also said some parks — such as Sierra Vista Park — are not being used by residents and called for a "thorough" review of park usage so the council can set priorities for spending city funds. Annual maintenance alone for 10 city parks costs $350,000, he noted.

Representatives of girls' softball and youth baseball said they have been waiting for permission to start construction and assured Bottin the fields would be completed as soon as possible so they can be used for next season which starts March 1977.

Election results

Local voters defeated a measure to increase representation on the Chaffey College Board of Trustees and chose Republican Clyde Stephens to face incumbent Bill McVittie in the November general election for the 65th Assembly District. For more election information see stories on page 3.

Mayor pro tem John McCarthy commented the groups have urgent need for additional fields and said he expects the fields to be completed rapidly. He also said development contracts with the groups will include completion time schedules.

Recreation Director Fred Taunton said small neighborhood parks do not have the continuous, heavy usage of larger parks that serve youth sports leagues but said residents adjacent to parks do enjoy use of the parks.

Councilwoman Ina Petokas indicated concern that proposed model airplane flight rings at the Greenbelt Park would create a noise problem for neighboring residents.

She voted to approve park plans including the model airplane rings after receiving assurances that model airplane enthusiasts would cooperate in reducing noise if the city receives "substantial complaints" from residents.

Council members Petokas, McCarthy and Hal Bailin did not support Bottin's move to have the park development plans declared flexible.

Bottin has proposed construction of a golf course west of the park which would require Greenbelt Park land designated for model airplane rings and trees.

A proposed golf course clubhouse might require land designated for an outdoor kitchen and picnic area, both of which are anticipated to have heavy use, especially during the summer according to Taunton.

Bailin declined to support the flexibility statement and said a golf course didn't seem to be compatible with the proposed park usages. He said the park plans are not "written in concrete" but are very well thought out.

"It's time we approved it and let them get at it," Bailin said and added, subsequent development will have to be left to future councils to decide and fund.

In other actions Monday night the council:

— Approved a tentative request for the city to cooperate with the Orange Empire Railway Museum which is planning to remove the abandoned Southern Pacific Railroad tracks along Euclid Avenue between C Street and Stowell Avenue.

— Approved Upland's participation in Municipal Data Service (MDS) and directed the city staff to evaluate the data service and investigate alternate methods of meeting the city's data needs.

— Voted to oppose Senate Bill 1716 and Assembly Bill 3000, both on labor relations. SB 1716 would require public employees to belong to an employee representation group. AB 3000 provides life-time tenure for police officers.

— Approved a tentative tract map for 46 lots on 12.3 acres northwest of 13th Street and Mountain Avenue in a single-family residential zone with a minimum lot size of 7,500 square feet.

Referred to the Planning Commission a revised map for 22 lots on 10 acres southeast of San Antonio Avenue and 24th Street in a single-family residential zone with a minimum lot size of 15,000 square feet.

Upland students to help build garage

The three-week summer school class will teach students techniques of basic construction, plot planning, property layout, roofing, wall construction and installation of doors.

The finished garage will join a house built this year by Chaffey High School students with the advice of Ontario and Upland professionals.

The $57,500 house, dubbed "Casa Grande" by the students, includes

Pacific Northwest Indians

Chaffey museum features tribal arts

By Lynne Locke

A Chaffey College Bicentennial exhibit features the tribal arts of the Pacific Northwest Indians through July 2 at the Rex W. Wignall Museum-Gallery.

Explorers first made contact with the Northwest Indians during the same years as the 13 colonies were fighting for independence and forming a new nation.

Gallery Director Skip Pahl said explorers were amazed to find the advanced culture of the Northwest Indians who were expert artists creating huge carvings as well as woven and metal items.

The exhibit features the arts of the main Indian tribes whose homes were centered along the rugged coastlines of Southern Alaska and the west coast of Canada from the first European contact in the late 18th century through the early 1900s. The material includes many items showing the Indians' skill with metals as well as in textiles, basketry and wood carving.

Included in the show are three totem poles from the turn of the century, various masks that were used in tribal rituals, plus a sculpture which is a portrait of a Boston sea captain carved in argillite, a black slate-like stone.

The potlatch of the Northwestern Indians is the thread which holds the exhibit together, Pahl said noting the potlatch was more than a party for rival clans.

Tribal chiefs proved their right to high rank at the potlatch, a feast during which the chiefs fed their guests and gave away valuable items.

Governmental representatives considered potlatches to be wasteful shows of wealth, but they were actually the framework of the entire society, which collapsed when the potlatches were outlawed, Pahl said.

A chief who received a potlatch gift was honorbound to return the gift "with interest," Pahl said, so the potlatch was a means of investing wealth. Potlatches also were a form of insurance since the debt continued even after the giver was dead and was owed to his descendants.

The majority of the items in the Chaffey College show are ceremonial objects, such as masks and bowls, used at the potlatch and items to be given to potlatch guests.

Items of special interest in the show include a granite grave marker showing an old woman hanging onto the dorsal fin of a killer whale.

A carving of a dancer is interesting for its use of four different materials. The dancer is carved from argillite, a black slate found only in the Queen Charlotte Islands.

The figure holds an ivory rattle and is decorated with sea lion whiskers and eagle down. The carving is so intricate the viewer can see the carved representation of an ermine headpiece down the dancer's back.

The art of the Northwest Indians is rich in the use of animals, which were adopted as clan symbols, Pahl said. The most common animals are beaver, bear, raven, hawk, eagle, and killer whale.

Each clan held the rights and had an equal responsibility to maintain the legends, songs and dances of their symbolic animal.

A highlight of the exhibit is a red cedar totem pole carved by the Haida Indians to illustrate a tribal legend. The totem pole shows a squid, person holding a killer whale, and a raven.

Totem poles were used to indicate the tribal communal house which might be as large as 60 feet by 90 feet, Pahl said and added chiefs were buried inside hallowed-out mortuary totems.

Other totems were used as decorative posts to support the house ceiling, according to Pahl who said the Northwestern Indians were the only native Americans with the post-and-lintel type of house construction used by Western culture.

Art items from the Northwestern Indians are rare because the Indians died out so soon after contact with whites. Materials also contributed to the scarcity of the items since wooden pieces deteriorated quickly in the moist climate.

The tribes were decimated by diseases introduced by the white explorers, Pahl said, and the tribes and their art work are moving toward complete extinction "in our lifetime."

The Indians were required to give up their customs, and legal, religious, and family systems in order to become United States citizens, so few of the native skills are known by the people still living, he said.

To accompany the exhibit, the museum staff prepared a series of photomurals from negatives made by the late Edward S. Curtis in 1904. An illustrated catalogue will be available for the exhibit.

A color film entitled, "Haida Carver" will be shown in the museum each day at noon and 7 p.m.

Group tours for 10 or more may be arranged by calling 987-1737, ext. 337. Gallery hours are noon-4 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. Monday through Thursday; noon-4 p.m., Friday; 2-5 p.m., Sunday; closed Saturdays. Admission is free.

RITUAL MASK — Hamatsa (cannibal) society members of the northwestern Kwakwaka'wakw Indians used wooden masks in ritual dances. The dancer could move the lower part of the beak with strings. Masks, totem poles, decorative blankets, jewelry, pottery and baskets of the Northwest Indians are included in a display at Chaffey College's Rex W. Wignall Museum - Gallery through July 2. A film is shown noon and 7 p.m. weekdays and 2:30 p.m. Sundays. Gallery hours are noon - 4 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, noon - 4 p.m. Friday, and 2-5 p.m. Sunday. Anticipating another year of grand opera are officers of the West End Opera Guild, from the left, Mrs. Mark Kirk, treasurer; Mrs. Lee Beck, president for a second term; Mrs. Van Horst, retiring hospitality chairman; and Mrs. William O'Connor, publicity. The women had met with other guild members recently for a luncheon meeting of the West End Opera Guild. Plans are being made to support "Le Boheme" and "Aida," the operas of the coming season.

Opera devotees install

Mrs. Lee Beck was installed as president of the West End Opera Guild for a second term during a recent luncheon and meeting held at The Arbor Restaurant in Upland.

Joyce Merrell, a past president, installed two new board members, Mrs. Maurice Goodban, first vice president, and Mrs. John E. Hunt, second vice president, along with Mrs. Beck and the other officers: Mrs. George Porter, ways and means; Mrs. Phillip Larson, secretary; Mrs. Mark Kirk, treasurer; Mrs. Tom Jones, hospitality; Mrs. Henry Lucas, parliamentary; and Mrs. Alan Carlisle, round robin bridge, a new part of the guild.

Mrs. Beck welcomed the members and guests attending and informed the group of the presentation made to Mrs. Harvey Doody prior to the meeting day.

Mrs. Doody was given a gold charm as a token of thanks for her time and effort spent in organizing and supporting the West End Opera Guild. In 1967, Mrs. Doody was a board member of the West End Opera Association and after seeing in interest in opera, felt a guild would be an "arm of the association" to promote and acquaint women of the West End with opera.

A second and major portion of the guild's work would be to raise money to support the opera productions. So it was in 1970, Mrs. Doody laid the foundation for the guild and in the fall of that year, the West End Opera Guild was chartered with a membership of 150 women.

Since that time, the guild holds an Opera Preview and Aperitivo before the spring and fall opera productions. The women also promote a ways and means project and a general membership meeting each year.

Since Mrs. Doody could not be at the installation luncheon, the presentation was made earlier in the month.

Mrs. Cesare Vai, president of the West End Opera Association, was guest speaker. She gave an informative talk on the association since its inception in 1965 when Stefan Petroff initiated the spark of an opera workshop which developed into an organization which produces two grand operas in a season.

Petroff was conductor for eight years.

Mrs. Vai said the budget of an opera production has increased from $14,450 in 1975-76 or $17,125 in 1976-77. She said the guild is contributing about six per cent of the opera production's budget.

Mrs. Vai announced the operas for the 1976-77 season will be "La Boheme" by Puccini on Nov. 20 and "Aida" by Verdi on May 7, 1977.

Standing committees and chairmen named were: Mrs. Gerald Wechsler, mailing; Mrs. Doody, advisory committee; Mrs. George Goddin, liaison officer to the association; Mrs. Jammie Kleist, yearbook; and Mrs. Alan T. Doody, the II Recitativo.

Mrs. George Porter was presented with a gold charm for her work as ways and means chairman during the past year.

Chaffey College District

Board expansion measure defeated

Chaffey Community College District voters have narrowly defeated a proposal to expand the school board from five to seven members.

Superintendent Ken Hinrichsen expressed surprise at the defeat and noted voters had been expected to approve the change to provide increased representation for district residents.

The measure was opposed by 32,124 voters for a 52 per cent majority with 29,397 voters or 47.6 per cent supporting the change, according to semiofficial results.

Riverside County residents of the college district supported the increased representation by a 53 per cent majority, but San Bernardino County, which holds the majority of the district's residents, opposed the measure by an identical 53 per cent.

The district had introduced the measure to increase representation as part of the pledge to Corona-Norco residents who recently voted to become part of the Chaffey district rather than joining the Riverside Community College District. Corona-Norco will become part of the district July 1.

Hinrichsen said defeat of the measure was probably due to voter conservatism on school issues and noted that other school measures also were defeated.

In addition, he said, district residents are apparently satisfied with the district's current organization.

The school board presently includes five members, all of whom live in Upland. The Corona-Norco area will have a chance to gain representation on the board in March 1977 when two seats come up for election.

All board members are chosen at large so residents from all sections of the district will be eligible to run for the two seats.

Primary voter turn-out 72.8 per cent

Stephens wins nomination

Voters in the 65th Assembly District chose Clyde Stephens to represent the Republican party against incumbent Democrat Bill McVittie in the November general election.

In other races incumbent Democrat Jim Lloyd and Republican Louis Brutocao were unopposed for their parties' nomination for the 35th Congressional District. Charles Bierschbach of Redlands garnered the most votes in the Superior Court judicial race.

Voter turn-out countywide was a surprising 72.8 per cent. Predicted voter turn-out had been considerably lower since the majority of the local races were uncontested. Sn Bernardino County voters tend to have a lower voter turn-out than statewide.

65th Assembly District Stephens was supported by 11,677 voters for 55 per cent of the Republican votes cast in the 65th Assembly District race.

Don Donnelly ran a close second with 9,644 votes for 45 per cent. The 65th Assembly District includes Upland, Montclair and the Red Hill section of Cucamonga.

Stephens will face incumbent Democrat Bill McVittie in the November general election. McVittie, who ran unopposed for the Democratic nomination, received 22,270 votes. He is just completing his first term in the state assembly.

35th Congressional District Republican challenger Brutocao will face first-term Democratic incumbent Lloyd in the November general election to represent the 35th Congressional District, which includes all of Pomona Valley.

Lloyd, who is just completing his first term in the House of Representatives, received 51,221 votes. Brutocao garnered 45,907 Republican votes.

Superior Court Judge Bierschbach received the most votes in the Superior Court judicial race but will face a run-off with Don Egan.

Bierschbach garnered 64,363 votes of a total of 150,892 votes cast for 42.6 per cent.

Runner-up Egan received 40,486 votes, followed by John R. Marcus, 21,719; Edison P. McDaniels, 13,005; and Paul R. Steinman, 11,319.

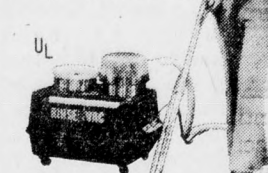

The five were competing

Scouting today's
a lot more than you think.

MAKE EVERY KILOWATT COUNT.

Edison has over 80 conservation tips. Here are a few.

SIX HOT TIPS ON AIR CONDITIONING.

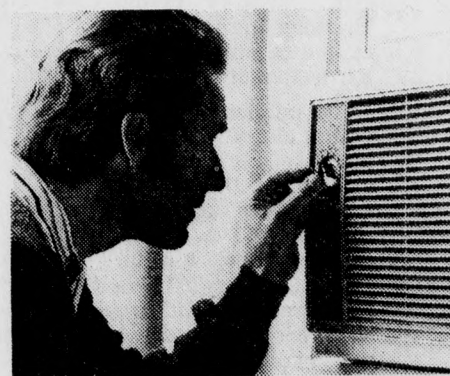

You'll save energy. Money, too.

1. Air condition only rooms in use.

If you have a room unit, keep all doors closed to the room you're cooling. When the children (or family pet) go outside, don't forget to close the door. Keep the windows closed, too. And draw your draperies and blinds. Outside awnings or other sun screens will also reduce your cooling needs.

2. Keep equipment clean. Clean accessible parts, but be careful not to damage them. Check filters every month and clean or replace as needed.

3. Keep temperature at 78° or higher. The less difference there is between inside and outside temperatures, the lower the air conditioning cost. If you have a room air conditioner, use a thermometer to see that the room temperature drops no lower than 78°. Remember: air conditioning is not to make you cold—just comfortable.

4. Consider an automatic timer. Timer attachments are available that will turn off your room air conditioner when you are away from home and turn it on before you return.

5. Investigate an energy-saving unit. If you're in the market for a room air conditioner, compare the Energy Efficiency Ratio rating. The higher the efficiency, the more cooling you get from the electricity you use.

6. Insulate your attic. If your attic isn't properly insulated, you could be using too much energy for air conditioning. (Too much energy to heat your home, too.) For information, see your local insulation contractor.

Inventor

The device includes a switch controlled by pressure in the oil lines of the engine so that the switch closes when the brake is operated. The battery, switch and stop lights of the truck are electrically connected in circuit in such a way that the battery energizes the stop lights when the switch is closed.

Tailgating accidents will be eliminated because following motorists will be warned in time. The invention is being introduced to manufacturers with the help and guidance of the Raymond Lee Organization and is covered by a patent application now pending in the U.S. Patent Office.

Bank in Upland remodeled

A public open house to mark the completion of a major remodeling of the Upland Bank of America was held Friday, announced Manager Chet Kermode.

Key element in the $115,000 renovation was the installation of two walk-up windows adjacent to the office's front entrance. Addition of the walk-up units will allow the bank to provide extended hours service from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. and from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. only on Friday, Kermode said.

The interior of the 20-year-old office also has been completely modernized. The officers area has been expanded and refurbished with new carpeting and furniture. The safe deposit and merchants deposit areas have been enlarged, and new check-writing desks, floor-to-ceiling wall covering, draperies and carpeting have been installed.

"With the renovation, we feel we now have one of the most modernly designed and equipped banking offices anywhere," said Kermode, "and can now offer our customers the fastest, most efficient and convenient service possible."

Chet Kermode, manager of Bank of America's Upland office, tests the office's new walk-up teller system next to the front entranceway, one of many improvements included in a $115,000 renovation project.

Classes for summer begin this week

Summer classes offered by the Chaffey Adult School begin this week. A variety of classes will provide West End adults a chance to learn new skills and improve techniques in a wide range of activities.

"In creative metal you can build a wrought iron gate, create an enameled metal sculpture or make an original silver ring," according to A.W. Schoenborn, director of the Chaffey Adult School. Earl Ramsey, master metal worker and craftsman, will provide instruction for the class on Mondays and Tuesdays.

Wood carving, leather projects, plastic crafts and jewelry will be taught by Paul White in a special crafts class on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Two wood working classes will give beginners and advanced students a chance to work on a variety of projects or specialize in cabinet making, Schoenborn says. Both classes will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays. John List will teach cabinet construction, and Sam Rice is in charge of the general wood working class.

Cher Brown will teach hand and wheel ceramic techniques on Thursday nights at the Montclair Recreation Building. The class will introduce the student to basic fundamentals of working with clay and glazes.

Photo lab techniques will be stressed by Jeff Cole in his class for experienced photographers. "An excellent facility with a modern processing lab and developing equipment is available every Wednesday night," Schoenborn says. Shirley Geannes and Rick Andrews will provide instruction in a variety of painting mediums. Day and night classes are available on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Bobbi Arjo, Sally Campbell and Geraldine Newman will instruct classes in the latest methods of clothing construction. Classes are open to adults with all levels of experience and are offered on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings and Monday and Wednesday afternoons.

Home redecorating will be taught by June Brown on Wednesday evenings. The class will stress color coordination, balance and an individual approach to decorating problems.

"If your home isn't ready for redecorating, then get it ready this summer in a home maintenance and repair class," Schoenborn advises. The class will meet Tuesdays from 7 to 10 p.m. The maintenance and repair course will cover a wide range of home problems and how to deal with them.

Registration for the classes is made in the Adult School office at Chaffey High School. The mobile office is located behind Tower Hall at Fifth Street and Euclid Avenue. Office hours are from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., and 6:30 to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday. Friday's hours are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For more information, call the Adult School office at 983-2010.

College pool will be open to community

The Chaffey College swimming pool will be open to the community from June 19 until Aug. 20 with three instruction sessions offered in that period.

Recreational swimming is scheduled by periods with a new admission ticket required for each period. The periods are noon to 4 p.m. and 4 to 7 p.m., Mondays through Thursdays including 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays; noon to 4 p.m. and 4 to 6 p.m., Fridays, and noon to 5 p.m. weekends.

There is a general admission charge and cap rental fee.

Registration for the first session of instruction will be from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m., June 18. The first session will be June 21 through July 2 at class hours of 8 to 8:45 a.m., 9 to 9:45, 10 to 10:45 and 11 to 11:45. There is an enrollment fee.

The second and third sessions will be July 5 to July 16 and July 10 to July 30, with registration set for July 2 and July 16. Registration and instruction will be at the same hours as the first session.

Paul Smith of the physical education division is the coordinator of the Chaffey College summer swimming program.

Saving neglected and mistreated animals is the object of posters created by Randy Corcoles, 13, left, and Robbie Wagoner, 13, right, in an art contest sponsored by Save The Animals Fund. Alice Grant, fund president, center, presented first place awards to both Randy and Robbie, who are students of Mary Schwedhelm at Vernon Jr. High School, Montclair. The organization urges pet owners to have their animals spayed or neutered, pointing to a growing number of unwanted animals and the fact that 80 per cent of animals taken to animal shelters must be killed.

Lifeguards and water safety instructors Denise Cline, left, and Carolyn Moore consult with physical education teacher and pool manager Tom McFadden in preparation for Montclair High School's summer program of swimming lessons. Classes for all ages will be offered. Registration dates are June 17 and 18, July 1 and 2 and July 15 and 16. Each class will last two weeks. The pool will be open daily from 1 to 5:30 p.m. beginning Friday. For further information call 626-0996.

All-star game set June 22

Top athletes honored

By Peggy Olsen
High school athletes selected to play in the Pomona Valley All-Star Basketball Game 8 p.m. June 22 at La Verne College were recently honored at a luncheon hosted by the La Verne Rotary Club.

"You have been honored by the Rotary Club as all stars, not only because of your playing abilities, but also because of your attitudes," said the Rev. Leland Wilson, chairman of the event which is sponsored by the local civic organization.

"The all star game is a big event for Rotary," said Wilson who noted that only 23 such high school all star games have been NCAA approved for play in the United States.

Wilson introduced Bonita High School basketball coach Remi Tremblay who was selected as head coach for the North team and Chaffey High School coach Don Nelson, who will coach the South team.

Tremblay, who helped organize the annual event three years ago, lauded the game as "an opportunity to showcase athletes." He said he is "very pleased with the talent on the two teams." The South has a height advantage but the North has some very good shooters, he added.

Nelson commended club members for providing "the community with an excellent opportunity to observe what young men do. I'm looking forward to a competitive game."

Bonita center Steve Sly is one of three All-CIF players who will head Tremblay's North squad.

Others are forward Anthony Vasquez and guard Jamie Eagle, both from Alta Loma High School. Others selected to play on the 12-man team are Aaron Bitran, Bonita; David Brigante, Claremont High School; Robert Fossum, Claremont; Brian Kelley, Royal Oak High School; James Knight, Pomona High School; Jon Kolodge, Damien High School; Mike Moses, Charter Oak High School; Mike Shepherd, San Dimas High School; and Mike Wetenkamp, Damien. Tremblay will be assisted by Jack Smith of Claremont High.

Wetenkamp, who averaged 22.5 points per game, and Sly who averaged 21.9 points per game, were Pomona

Montclair plans tennis tournament

The Montclair Recreation Department will sponsor its first annual tennis tournament in conjunction with National Tennis Week June 21 to 27.

The tournament, open to anyone 12 years old or older, will be held at the Montclair High School tennis courts, 4725 Benito St.

There will be three classes, A and B (advanced), C (intermediate) and novice, and four events, men's singles, men's doubles, women's singles and women's doubles.

There is an entry fee of $2 for each event. Trophies will be presented to the winners.

Registration will be limited to the first 16 entries received for each event. Registration will be taken at the recreation department office in the civic center, 5111 Benito St., after 1 p.m. Mondays through Fridays, and at the Montclair High School tennis courts on June 21 at 6 p.m.

Valley's top scorers during the recent basketball season. Sly also pulled down 15.1 rebounds per game.

Headed by Pomona Valley Player of the Year Garey Carpenter of Garey High School, the South squad will include four All-CIF players.

Carpenter, also named the San Antonio League's Most Valuable Player this year, averaged 19.7 points, 18.9 rebounds and six assists per game.

Other All-CIF players picked by Nelson who will be assisted by Lanny Moore of Montclair are forward Mark McQuaid of Chaffey High School, center Rusty Owens of Rowland High School, and guard George Terry of Ganesha High School.

The remainder of the South roster consists of Kelly Bowlin, Walnut High School; Ken Dudley, Ganesha; Angel Rosado, Nogales High School; John VanderSchaaf, Ontario Christian High School; Dave Warner, Rowland and Stan Webster, Garey.

Players for the two teams were nominated by the coaches with final selections made by members of the Rotary Club. The North team consists of students who attend schools located north of the San Bernardino Freeway, while the South team is comprised of students who attend schools south of the freeway.

All players must be graduating seniors, with no more than two players representing one school.

Each team member will play at least five minutes during the first half of the game which will have 12-minute quarters. Special rules allow dunk shots, disallow zone defenses with the exception of the full court zone press, and allow a player six personal fouls.

Cheerleaders for the two teams will compete in a free throw contest during half-time.

Cheerleaders who will represent the North team are Cheryl Wanamaker and Lori Perrin, Bonita; Karen Frampton and Donna

Meyers, Claremont; Rochelle Rocha and Karin Marks, Alta Loma; Laurie Nall, Royal Oak; Karen Petett, Pomona; Sharon O'Brien and Mary Mabie, Damien; Mary Ann Schneider, Charter Oak; and Judy Nottingham, San Dimas.

Cheerleaders for the South will be Dana Bloeser, Walnut; Linda Martin and Michele Fractious, Ganesha; Cory Radford, Chino; LeAnn Henderson and Diana Fitzgerald, Chaffey; Karen Sessions and Shelly Bouck, Rowland; Adrienne Appleton, Nogales; Melissa Currie and Rene Mathews, Garey; and Paula Hettinga, Ontario Christian.

Tickets, $2 for adults and $1.50 for students, may be purchased at First Federal Savings and Loan and All-Star Sporting Goods in La Verne; area offices of Pomona First Federal Savings and Loan; and The Sportsman in Claremont.

Proceeds will be donated to worthy community organizations. In the past two years, a profit of $2,500 has been allocated to La Verne-San Dimas Open Door, YMCA, South Hills Community Center, Bonita Booster Club, Garey Booster Club, Claremont Booster Club, a Bicycle Safety Program and the Bicentennial Celebration.

QUESTION: Why are we digging in the courtyard of the City Hall? T.G.

ANSWER: General services employees are working on a square of land. This section being developed will be the site of the flag poles, fountain, and time capsule for the Bicentennial program in July.

SPECIAL NOTE: Two weeks ago K.L. asked a question in regard to the fire blight disease. At that time it was reported that we did not have fire blight disease in the city. Kenny Hoover, general service director reports it has now been observed on number of plants and that it is spreading. Any questions on the fire blight disease please call General Services Department, 9822617.

QUESTION: Is it true that property owners all along Euclid Avenue are being requested to pick up leaves from the gutter? F.J.K.

ANSWER: Yes. Letters are being sent to all property owners on Euclid Avenue requesting their cooperation in keeping leaves out of the gutter. It is also being requested that grass cuttings, bush and tree trimmings, branches and other similar waste materials be placed in containers for weekly pickup by C.V. Disposal.

QUESTION: School will soon be out for summer, however we would like to continue having you furnish the summer school civil class with the duties of the various city positions. Can you now tell us the duties of the library director? M.S.

ANSWER: Upland's library director is Kathleen Bernath. Secretarial skills class offered Chaffey Adult School is offering a summer course for adults interested in regaining clerical and secretarial skills in daytime classes at Montclair High School. Scheduled to begin this week and continue through July 30, the five-week program is held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 8:30 to 11:30.

"The use of manual and electric typewriters and ten-key electronic calculators in office applications paves the way for developing skills in business math, spelling, filing and beginning accounting," according to A.W. Schoenborn, director of the Chaffey Adult School.

Many clerical operations are learned in a work-office simulation, as well as in the operation of the Lester Hill Corporation, a make-believe cleaning supplies distributor, according to Schoenborn.

Upland PONY has openings

Upland's Pioneer PONY League, the largest in the nation with 18 teams, is in search of players.

Boys interested in playing PONY League ball are invited to a special tryout session Sunday at Max Hawkins Field, located on Eighth Street between Campus and Grove.

Upland PONY League also takes those youths in the Cucamonga and Alta Loma areas. Boys ranging in age from 13 to 14 are invited to the session.

THE STARS — Sean Connery and Audrey Hepburn as Robin and Marian pledge their undying love which has preserved through years of separation in "Robin and Marian," a Ray Stark - Richard Shepherd Production of a film by Richard Lester.

"ROBIN AND MARIAN" — Audrey Hepburn as Maid Marian and Nicol Williamson as Little John assist the gravely wounded Robin Hood (Sean Connery) from the battlefield after his confrontation with the Sheriff of Nottingham in Columbia Pictures' "Robin and Marian." The romantic adventure drama depicts the exploits of the legendary English outlaw and his true love in their twilight years.

'Robin and Marian'

Connery, Hepburn team up

"Robin and Marian," a new Richard Lester film from Rastar Pictures and Columbia Pictures starring Sean Connery, Audrey Hepburn, and Robert Shaw, was filmed amid the castles, cathedrals, great halls, forests and plains which dot the countryside of northern Spain.

Near Madrid stands a replica — part restored, part created — of the world of Sherwood Forest, Nottingham, Chalus: names from the age of Robin Hood.

Though a bygone age, the time of Robin Hood is an ever-present one. Legend has made it so, and the centuries insisted on it. How much is truth, how much folk tale by now is a question scholars never tire of asking.

But the motion picture aims to achieve a different ambition: to shape the materials of richer folklore into a romantic, adventurous entertainment larger than life and therefore a free and fresh insight into the accepted history.

But also to be authentic in tone, in every detail of how people felt and thought and lived, of how it really was.

The theme

"Robin and Marian" celebrates a return to the romantic age personified by the warrior-hero Robin Hood. It views the life it is restoring from the perspective of those who have been there before and suddenly find themselves back in situations very like their days of glory 20 years earlier.

Looking at the twilight days of Robin Hood enables the motion picture to span a lifetime, be the wiser for what it has learned, and yet go on to a new romantic and dramatic climax.

The story

"Robin and Marian" begins in France. Robin Hood and Little John are officers back from the Crusades, waging war for their King, Richard the Lionheart, in France.

These now older companions refuse to obey one last mad, despotic command from Richard — to pillage needlessly a town numbering only an old man, women and children. Perhaps as an old friend of the King, only Robin could get away with it, but he does refuse the order.

Then, Richard is slain by an arrow hurled by a demented old man. It is as though all the causes for which Robin and Little John had trailed Richard to the Holy Land and back to France now have soured. The aftertaste of a meaninglessly squandered life is bitter. They do not wait for Richard to be buried. They embark on a return to Sherwood Forest, their own special never-never land they probably never should have left.

It is not long until, like ghosts in wait, old friends like Friar Tuck and Will Scarlett, discover that Robin and Little John are back.

Nor much longer before it is clear that the people are suffering mightily at the hand of mad King John and that Robin Hood could be a rallying call for them far more meaningful even then in his first days of legend, when he robbed the rich abbots to dole out pennies to the deserving poor.

Robin first pauses at Kirkly to recapture the love he left behind — Maid Marian. To his dismay, she is now the Abbess of Kirkly Abbey.

The two lines of Robin's restored life clash when, by King John's orders, the Sheriff of Nottingham is commanded by his nobleman, Sir Ranulf de Pudsey, a fool he suffers with evident distaste, to oust the higher clergy (which includes Maid Marian and her nuns) from England.

Robin's rescue of Marian from the Abbey heats up the old flames, and prompts the ultimate confrontation between Robin and the Sheriff and between passing philosophies in disordered times.

Audrey Hepburn

As "Robin and Marian" celebrates a return to the romantic age of Robin Hood, no less does it celebrate the return to the screen of Audrey Hepburn, absent for eight years, as Marian.

Miss Hepburn's return, forecast from year to year as many other major film projects have tried to enlist her talents, has been accomplished by this film where all others have failed by a happy conjunction of the right script and the right auspices at the right time.

She disavows any mystery surrounding the long absence and makes it clear that it was never good-bye and never meant to last so long.

Yes, the role has particular appeal, and the matched talents of Sean Connery and Richard Lester were irresistible, but also years of attachment to home and rearing two growing boys had the priority which precluded a movie-making interval until now.

Sean Connery

Sean Connery comes to interpret Robin Hood as a rebel with a cause (someone has flippantly called Robin "the first hippie") as the third this year in a string of impressive dramatic opportunities in films of great variety, entirely distinctive but for the common excellence of the projects.

The first of these, "The Wind and the Lion," written and directed by John Milius, won Connery much acclaim for his performance of Raisuli, the brave and honorable Berber bandit chief who bests an American president (Teddy Roosevelt) in a confrontation loosely based on early 20th century history.

Robert Shaw

Robert Shaw has an enviable, continuing triple-threat reputation as actor, novelist and playwright.

His notable play, "The Man in the Glass Booth," was a Broadway success and, as it happens, was directed by Harold Pinter in whose own plays, "The Caretaker" and "Old Times," Shaw has starred as a leading actor both in New York and London. "The Man in the Glass Booth" was first a novel, one of his five to date.

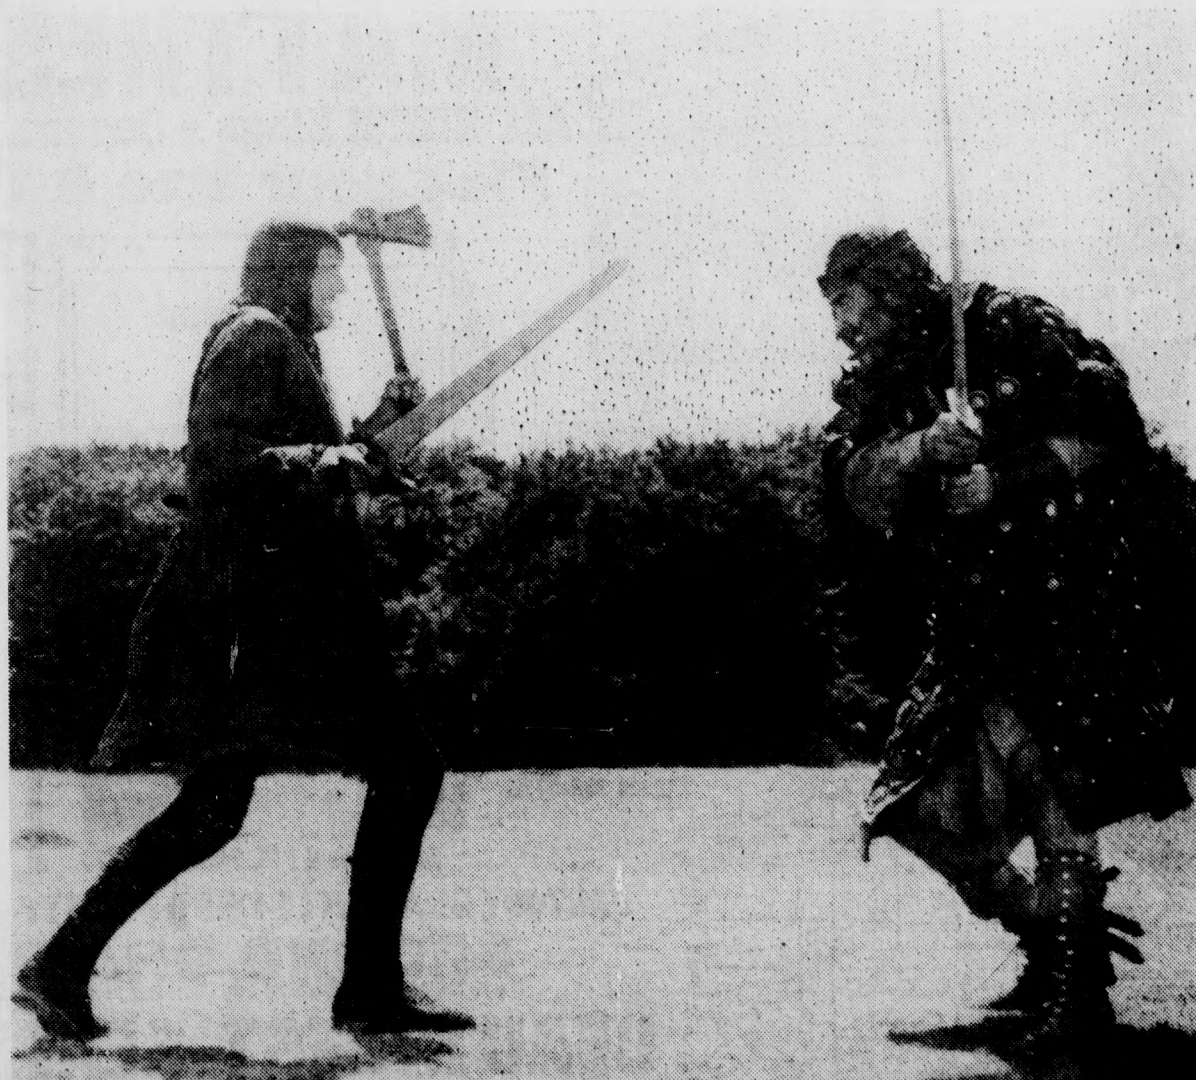

ROBIN AND HIS KING — Robin Hood comforts his dying monarch King Richard, played by Richard Harris. Other stars include Audrey Hepburn as Maid Marian, Nicol Williamson as Little John, Ronnie Barker as Friar Tuck, Denholm Elliott as Will Scarlett, and Robert Shaw as the Sheriff of Nottingham.

HEPBURN RETURNS — Audrey Hepburn, in a return to the screen after an absence of eight years, discusses her role of Maid Marian with the film's director, Richard Lester. Why did she pick this particular film? "I think it a beautifully written script and, after being offered so many films in which I would play the roles I used to play, it was exciting to have a chance to play a woman of my own age," she said.

CONNERY AND SHAW — Sean Connery as Robin Hood (right) and Robert Shaw as the Sheriff of Nottingham, long-time adversaries, meet for a final confrontation in a battle of champions in "Robin and Marian," produced by Denis O'Dell and directed by Richard Lester from a screenplay by James Goldman.

Christian Scientists' convention

'More Christianity' urged

Christian Scientists from around the world were told this week that the only sufficient response to challenges confronting churches in general and their denomination in particular is "more Christianity."

"Not just the Christianity that acknowledges Jesus as the Saviour," said Lenore D. Hanks, chairman of The Christian Science Board of Directors, "or the Christianity that may be a sort of lip service. But, the Christianity that follows the Christ so closely it adds spiritual dimension to everything we do."

An estimated 10,000-12,000 members of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, were on hand to hear the keynote message, including Stanley and Jane Hammond of a Pomona Valley church. Many of the denomination's more than 3,000 branches in 57 countries were represented at the 81st annual meeting.

Accounts of healing solely through prayer were shared throughout the meeting. "In Christian Science, Christianity and healing are forever linked," Mrs. Hanks commented. "We can't really have one without the other."

In order to involve members more deeply in the meeting, they were invited six months ago to submit talks and questions. More than 250 talks were received and many played an important part in three days of inspirational discussions and church reports.

Mrs. Hanks spoke frankly about a decrease in numbers of those in the healing ministry of Christian Science and of the need for strengthening branch church membership in many areas.

Historian Robert Peel recalled to members that Mary Baker Eddy's first address in The Mother Church "didn't indulge in a paean of triumph. Instead she gave them the quiet reminder: 'Christianity is not superfluous. Its redemptive power is seen in sore trials, self-denials, and crucifixions of the flesh. But these come to the rescue of mortals, to admonish them, and plant the feet steadfastly in Christ.'"

Members were asked to commit themselves to four objectives: more Christianity in their lives, better healing, a stronger appreciation of the church, and greater alertness to rising materialism in the signs of the times.

Facts About High Blood Pressure

By DR. W. P. HELZER, D.C.

I have recently been asked to comment on the causes and effects of high blood pressure.

High blood pressure is primarily a result of a narrowing of the inner diameter of the blood vessels. This narrowing is due largely to the narrowing of the muscular layers of the large vessels to contract.

This process sets in motion a chain of events. In order to supply an adequate amount of blood to all parts of the body, the heart must work harder, and through this constant overwork the heart muscles gradually enlarge. After a certain amount of enlargement the heart muscle becomes inefficient and is unable to maintain pressure sufficient for adequate circulation.

How can this enlargement affect other areas of the body?

Other parts and organs of the body deteriorate and become diseased because of inadequate blood supply. This chain of events is a self-perpetuating process inasmuch as the large vessels respond to higher pressures by thickening their walls to accommodate the increased pressure, and so cause further narrowing of their internal diameter, with still higher pressure resulting. The patient now has hypertension with arteriosclerosis, which is a calcified hardening of the arteries, and in addition, very probably heart damage.

From the foregoing it can be readily seen how important it is to maintain blood pressure at a normal level, and to correct the tendency toward high blood pressure as soon as it becomes apparent.

What can the modern Doctor of Chiropractic do to correct this condition?

Chiropractic manipulation is the most effective means to this end. A dramatic drop of 20 to 30 points in pressure often occurs after only a few treatments, even in very advanced cases. Periodic Chiropractic manipulation will assist in maintaining blood pressure at a lowered level and consequently will add useful years to your life.

After all, your vitality and youthfulness is directly related to the efficiency of the circulatory system of your body. (Note: Dr. Helzer maintains chiropractic offices at 108 East H Street, Ontario, telephone: 983-1711). (C) ARS 1976

Naval Reserve Center open house

Drill team to be featured

"Shooting Stars," a precision drill team from San Dimas, will be a featured attraction Saturday when an open house is held at Naval Reserve Center Pomona.

In addition, music during the noon-4 p.m. program will be furnished by the award-winning Royal Oak High School Band.

Site of the exposition is 1700 E. First St., directly south of the Sears shopping center on Holt Boulevard.

The "Shooting Stars," comprised of girls in the 10-15 age bracket who are in attendance within the Bonita Unified School District, have captured seven trophies already this year.

Two years ago the girls represented the City of San Dimas at the World's Fair in Spokane and in '75 were participants in the Honor Review at the state fair in Sacramento.

Under the command of Sally Duff, the 60-member group is adorned in blue denim skirts with a white fringe, pink (with a white dot) blouse and white cowboy hats and boots.

Military exhibits on display will be a replica of the USS Los Angeles, plus an underwater recovery unit from Naval Engineering Laboratory (San Diego) and a contained underwater recovery unit from Naval Undersea Center (San Diego).

In addition, sea power films will be in almost constant presentation in the drill hall.

Guests will be permitted virtual free access to all areas of the center, with escorted tours also being provided by uniformed Sea Cadets, a pre-military age group sponsored by the Navy League.

Static displays will also be provided by the seven units attached to NRC Pomona. These groups include amphibious units, naval ordnance, naval communications, construction battalion center, construction battalion detachment, individual reserve units and volunteer training units.

Commanding officer of the base is Lt. Cdr. Laurie Keiski, USNR-TAR.

Capt. Howard Lavery, USNR-R, is senior officer of the drilling units attached to NRC Pomona.

L.A. County Museum of Art

Japanese art shown

Forty examples of Japanese art of the Edo period, a selection of American decorative arts, and a black chalk drawing of a male nude by Michelangelo Buonarroti are featured this month at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, 5905 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles.

Japanese art
The Japanese art of the Edo period (1615-1868), from the museum's permanent collection and on loan from private California collections, is being presented in the Far Eastern Art Galleries on the first level of the museum's Ahmanson Gallery through Sept. 26.

Featured are four monumental screens: "Plum Trees" and "Landscape" by Watanabe Shiko; "Pleasuring on the Sumida River" by Hishikawa Moronobu; and "Winter Scenes" by Maruyama Okyo.

Important scroll paintings by Matsumura Goshun, Soga Shohaku, Nakabayashi Chikuto and Totoki Baigai are also shown. Executed in subtle ink and brilliant colors, these works depict landscapes, birds, flowers and scenes of urban life.

In addition, colorful enameled porcelains, subtly shaped stonewares, sword guards, lacquered inros and boxes, embroidered textiles and tie-dyed robes are on view.

"The Edo period was one of the most vital and prolific eras for the arts of Japan," said George Kuwayama, the museum's senior curator of Far Eastern Art. "This exhibition celebrates the brilliant creativity of Japanese artists who worked in a variety of media during this time."

The exhibition can be seen 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. Tuesday - Friday and 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Admission is free, and free guided docent tours are offered 1:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

Decorative arts
A selection of American decorative arts from the museum's permanent collection and on loan from private Southern California collections is in the Decorative Arts Galleries on the fourth level of the Ahmanson Gallery through Oct. 17.

Selections from the museum's Quattlebaum Collection featuring blown and pressed glass objects from the 18th and 19th centuries are on view as well as American art glass by Louis Comfort Tiffany, including an unusual laburnum design lamp, vases, and service pieces of Favrite and iridescent glass. The Tiffany pieces are on loan from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Solomon.

Of particular interest during the Bicentennial year is a selection of Staffordshire transferware from the Hinman - Garland Collection. Scenes on these ceramics provide an unusual view of American history as it was depicted on English pottery created for the American market between 1818 and 1830.

Among the furniture to be seen in the installation is the "Great" Slatback Armchair which was probably made in the Hudson River Valley at the end of the 17th century and still bears its original red painted finish.

Admission to the exhibition is free. Docent tours are offered 1:30 p.m. Tuesdays.

Michelangelo drawing
A double-sided, black chalk drawing of a male nude by Michelangelo Buonarroti (1475-1564) was recently acquired by Dr. Armand Hammer, chairman of The Armand Hammer Foundation, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Occidental Petroleum Corporation, Los Angeles, and trustee of the museum.

This rare drawing by an artist universally considered to be Europe's greatest sculptor has been installed as a major addition to the exhibition "Old Master Drawings from American Collections" on view in the museum's Frances and Armand Hammer Wing through Sunday.

Measuring 9-3/16 inches by 4 inches, the drawing dates from Michelangelo's late period and according to Ebra Feinblatt, the museum's senior curator of prints and drawings, may be related to other studies which pertain to Michelangelo's famous sculpture, the "Rondanini Pieta" in the Castello

Sforzesco, Milan.

"Although freely executed in black chalk," said Feinblatt, "the drawing suggests the forceful posture and intensity of emotion associated with the art of one of the greatest masters of the Italian High Renaissance. The drawing is one of less than half a dozen by Michelangelo in the United States, and Dr. Hammer's generous loan will provide a unique opportunity for visitors to the exhibition to see the work of one of the greatest artists of all time."

"Old Master Drawings from American Collections" is the first major American museum exhibition of old master drawings to include all the European schools.

Among the 237 drawings which range in date from the 14th to the close of the 18th century are works by Antonio Pollaiuolo, Filippo Lippi, Cellini, Durer, Watteau, Rembrandt, Rubens and Goya. The Michelangelo study joins four other drawings, by Leonardo da Vinci, Raphael, Tiepolo and Watteau, lent to the exhibition by The Armand Hammer Foundation.

Hours for the exhibition "Old Master Drawings from American Collections" are 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. Tuesday - Friday and 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. weekends.

Museum members are admitted free, the general public for $1, and students with I.D. and senior citizens for 50 cents.

Dangers of youth sports

In short, give the game back to the kids for the joy of playing. They may not have the judgment to look after their own welfare but the adults have and, further, should devote their influence toward safety and good health rather than urging their charges toward unrealistic and potentially dangerous goals.

"The history of Christianity furnishes sublime proofs of the supporting influence and protecting power bestowed on man by his heavenly Father, omnipotent Mind, who gives man faith and understanding whereby to defend himself, not only from temptation, but from bodily suffering," will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy 10 a.m. Sunday at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Ontario, 1429 N. Euclid Ave.
